2022-2023 Calendar and Guidelines for CLDE NTI and LCD e-workshop

Welcome to Language and Concept Development & New Teacher Institute!

WPS eWorkshop: Language & Concept Development (LCD)

Essential Question: How can I create meaningful opportunities for multilingual learners to acquire both the knowledge and the language needed to be successful in my classroom?

At the heart of this professional learning opportunity is a professional learning community (PLC) model of learning. While each workshop contains materials about best practices for culturally and linguistically responsive teaching, the most important part of this workshop is collaboration with peers around the essential learning and the work you do in your own classroom for emerging bilingual students.

There are five units of each e-workshop, plus a sixth unit where you will synthesize your key learning. Each unit of this workshop will give you time to explore the resources and then to apply the learning to your classroom. There are three essential parts of each unit and one face-to-face session.

	WHAT	When
EXPLORE	You will explore videos and readings (about 1 hour)	Explore during the first week of the unit, the post and respond to other posts in Explore
MAKE IT WORK	You will apply your learning to your own teaching practice and share with your community (expect 1-2 hours to plan, execute, and share)	Complete your "make it work" (often in the classroom) during the second/third week of each unit
SHARE		Post to a reflection and artifact of your Make It Work in the Share during the third/fourth week of each unit. Respond to two colleagues' posts
Face to Face	This PD will review eWorkshop content and provide supplementary information.	Thursday, August 4, 2022 Monday, September 12, 2022 Monday, November 28, 2022 Monday, February 27, 2023
NTI Professional Development: 18 eWorkshop hours + 12 Face to Face Hours = 30 professional development hours.

To write effectively on discussion boards:

- Posts should invite conversation. Pose a question, ask for an opinion, elicit feedback. Writing “This is what I did” neither encourages nor discourages conversation. Saying “I’m wondering whether any of you have had similar experiences. How did your experience influence your teaching?” begs for answers and a discussion. Also, sometimes you may not want to create a new post but rather embed your thinking into a response to someone else’s post.
- Responses to posts should encourage ongoing conversation. Instead of “Good for you!” or “That’s interesting,” which effectively shuts down dialog, respond with a question or observation. Add your own experience or “aha.” Ideally, the discussions will become professional conversations.
- Online etiquette prevails. Avoid all caps and don’t worry excessively about the mechanics of writing, such as punctuation and spelling. Remain aware that although humor is wonderful, when it is written, it is easily misinterpreted.

Please stick to the schedule on the attached calendar so each member of the professional learning community can fully participate in discussion.

CLD Collaboration and Coaching Cycles

You will be required to complete at least 15 hours of in-class coaching and collaborative cycles with a member of the CLDE department in the next three years. You are welcome to start this work at any time, but we understand that you will be very busy during your first year with WPS. You will most likely be contacted by a member of our team this year, but you are not required to start until year two.

CLD Collaborative Coaching Cycles consist of three parts:

- Part 1 – Collaborative planning with a CLDE Specialist (30 min)
- Part 2 – Observation of the lesson using the CLDE Observational Tool (60 min)
- Part 3 – Reflection with the CLDE Specialist (30 min)
